What's the Truth about Global Warming? Is it true or false? Are humans causing the climate to change or not?

This ebook will disregard the normal propaganda outlets known for misinformation (main stream media) and review social media posts. People directly involved in the subject matter are the most reliable sources of information and they often post to social media. The legacy media often gets its news secondhand from social media sources. Very few legacy media do their own investigative reporting anymore.

How can someone separate the hysteria from the truth when it comes to the climate? Can we trust those who are financially incentivized by the subject? When we look back on history, the media has nearly nonstop reported about doomsday-type scenarios, fear mongering. They get their clicks and profit from fear.

Decades ago there was still hysteria, but just a different topic. "We're running out of trees," they cried. That never happened.

There was a fear of an "ice age" which also didn't happen.

There was a fear from the Exxon Valdez oil spill that it would do irreversible damage and affect everyone in the world, but some years later, it's now a thriving ecosystem.

Fear of meteors colliding with earth were published that some claimed would result the end of all living things. It didn't happen.

The news media said the year 2000 could be mass chaos due to a digit issue in computers. People moved into emergency bunkers. The fear was irrational and unjustified.

There have been various viruses the media has pushed- Ebola, zika virus, swine flu, SARS, avian flu, covid, monkeypox¹. The media is no longer trustworthy. They often do not tell the truth.

Especially alarming is the mass of "news" that attribute ordinary things to "climate change." It's the epitome of confirmation bias. When summer is hot, stories attribute that to climate change. When winter brings cold fronts... climate change. Anything and everything seems to be attributed to it, but is it true? Is it true that the climate is changing more now than before and is it true that human activity is adversely and permanently changing the climate?

U.N. Predicts Disaster if Global Warming Not Checked

PETER JAMES SPIELMANN June 29, 1989

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — A senior U.N. environmental official says entire nations could be wiped off the face of the Earth by rising sea levels if the global warming trend is not reversed by the year 2000.

Coastal flooding and crop failures would create an exodus of "eco-refugees," threatening political chaos, said Noel Brown, director of the New York office of the U.N. Environment Program, or UNEP.

He said governments have a 10-year window of opportunity to solve the greenhouse effect before it goes beyond human control.

As the warming melts polar icecaps, ocean levels will rise by up to three feet, enough to cover the Maldives and other flat island nations, Brown told The Associated Press in

Hypocrisy and Financial Motives

Another reason to be skeptical is when people have financial incentives to say or do certain things. For example, the government may help fund your research project if you conclude in the affirmative for "climate change" but may deny it otherwise. Speakers who travel the world like Al Gore preaching the message about rising seas and the end of the world if we don't change have also made millions. Al Gore was reported to have purchased a $9 million beach mansion along the Pacific Ocean near Santa Barbara, Calif. What about his claim about houses being underwater and what about wasting energy? Did he not believe what he preached? Also, if he was truly concerned about CO2 emissions damaging the planet why did he fly around the world in private planes? Is it credible that world elites fly hundreds of private planes across the world to a "climate summit" such as the one at Davos, Switzerland. Then they lecture the peasants about not flying because it hurts the environment they say. People dislike the double standard and thus don't believe a message when there is obvious hypocrisy.

Not one media outlet has reported it.

CO2 warming is a hoax.

Is this why there was a quiet rebranding from "global warming" to "climate change"? Did the group realize the globe wasn't warming? Why else would they rebrand?

A bombshell new peer-reviewed study has provided conclusive scientific evidence proving that carbon dioxide (CO₂) emissions in Earth's atmosphere cannot cause "global warming."

Dr. Jan Kubicki led a group of world-renowned Polish scientists to study the impact of increases in CO₂ emissions on the Earth's global temperatures. However, not only did they find that higher levels of CO₂ made no difference, but they also proved that it simply isn't possible for increases in carbon dioxide to cause temperatures to rise.

Kubicki and his team recently published three papers which all conclude that Earth's atmosphere is already "saturated" with carbon dioxide.

This saturation means that, even at greatly increased levels of CO₂, the "greenhouse gas" will not cause temperatures to rise.

Kubicki et al. summarize their evidence by noting that as a result of saturation, "emitted CO₂ does not directly cause an increase in global temperature."

Current levels of CO₂ in the atmosphere are around 418 parts per million (ppm) but the scientists state that past 400 ppm, "the CO₂ concentration can no longer cause any increase in temperature."

Based on empirical data, the world will need more CO2 in the future, not less. Increasing CO2 increases plants water use efficiency and allows more crop production with less water. To feed everyone in the future, we will need higher CO2 levels. And, there is no real evidence that CO2 increases global temperatures (Some models, but they are someone's guess). Your government is promoting the exact opposite of what needs to be done. Your government is using this as a way to get you to submit to their desires and implement "Satans New World Order". I will debate anyone who is serious and has been studying the issue for at least a couple of decades. The University/industry/government complex is controlling this information the same way they have controlled the information on Covid-19, by removing those who speak out against their fraud. I have spoken out at my University and they removed me from my professorship. (At my age, who cares; lol)

This is evidence that the claim of 97%-100% of scientists believing in human caused permanent climate change is not true. There is not a consensus in the scientific community. They make such claims to bully and assert control and dominance and control public perception.

If carbon dioxide is so bad for the planet, why do greenhouse growers buy CO2 generators to double plant growth?

Facts about climate change

These facts from climate researchers correct common misconceptions about global warming and its impact.

97% of climate scientists agree that humans are causing global warming

At least 97% of published climate experts agree that global warming is real and caused by humans.

The myth that scientists disagree on climate change sometimes comes from misleading petitions that don't accurately represent the climate science community. These open petitions typically include non-scientists and scientists working in unrelated fields. Among scientists who study and publish research on the earth's climate, there is overwhelming agreement that human-caused global warming is happening.

Source: NASA

The cost of renewable energy is dropping rapidly

Renewable energy sources like wind and solar are already cost-competitive with fossil fuels and are getting cheaper each year. The myth of expensive renewable energy is out of date. In fact, wind and solar power are already cheaper than fossil fuels in many countries.

This myth also doesn't account for the hidden price of fossil fuels, which includes the money spent dealing with pollution, impacts on human health and global warming. When all these costs are considered, the relative cost of renewable energy is even lower. The International Energy Agency has recently concluded that solar power is now the cheapest electricity in history.

Source: IRENA

If there was actually a consensus about humans causing permanent global warming then why would they have to "campaign" so hard to sway public opinion? Why do they stretch the truth and make claims about 97% of scientists agreeing on something when they don't. They only poll the ones who believe what they want. Facebook pushed hard to put alerts on everyone's posts with links to their propaganda pages. They did the same with Covid information and Zuckerberg has since apologized and said they indeed posted false information at times.

Why the lust for power and control?

Is it possible that man is insecure and wants to be "like God" to feel some kind of control over his environment? Maybe the thought of feeling out of control in this life is too much to bear for some, so they try to control others instead. We can't control the climate, the earth, its natural cycles, but we don't even have full control our own bodies. If we do something stupid our body will overrule us. For example, if you drink too much alcohol, your body will force you to vomit it out. It tries to compensate for your bad decisions and acts in self-preservation.

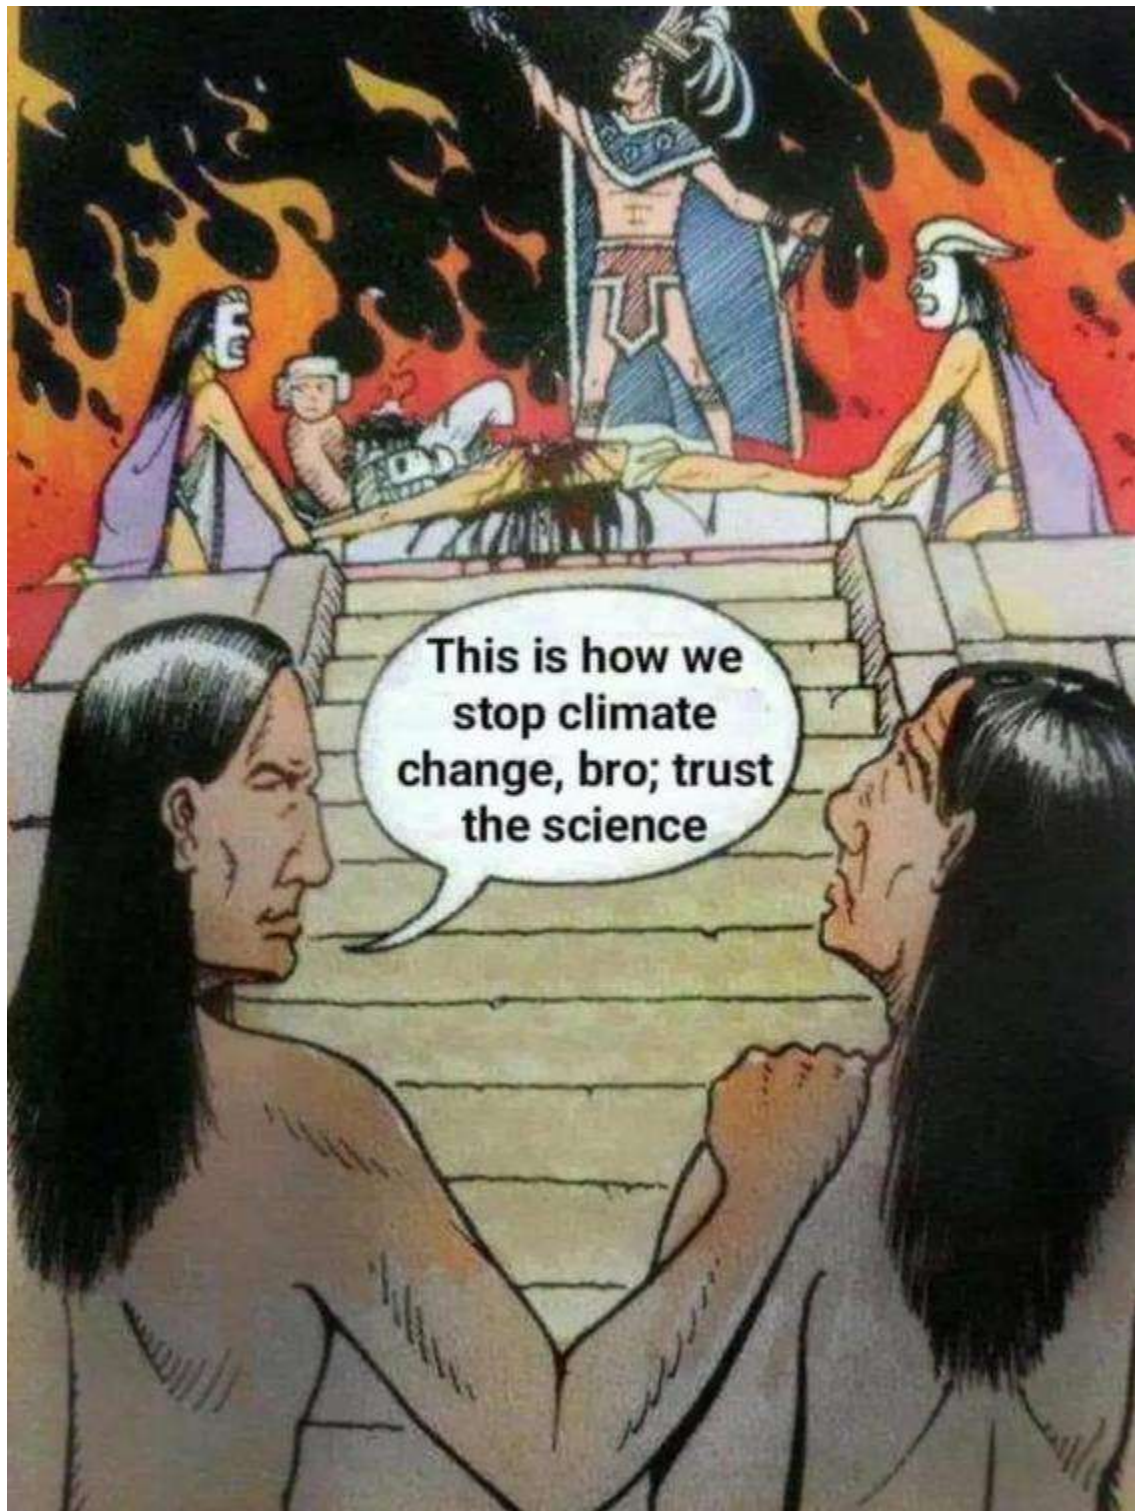

Every day your body will start shutting down your functions to prepare for sleep- which you experience as tiredness. 1/3 of people's lives are not even spent consciously. Your body repairs cells, pumps blood, breathes air and exhales particles. It breaks down and processes food and allocates the nutrients and energy appropriately. It is an amazing machine that is always doing complex automatic functions on your behalf that most people are not even aware of.

Maybe man is unsettled that he can't control the weather or the climate, or the seasons, or hardly anything at all, but sees an opportunity for power and control of others by perpetuating a belief that is so general and vague that it is hard to refute. Who has tools to test the theory one way or the other?

We notice the news fear mongering as they have done for decades. We see many profiting off the fear in various ways and we see lots of hypocrisy from the so-called climate experts.
