FBI And Other Agencies Paid Informants $548 Million In Recent Years With Many Committing Authorized Crimes

“Authorized Crimes”

"The National Debt in my first month went down by $12 billion."

— Donald Trump on Saturday, February 25th, 2017 in a tweet

The numbers check out. And in fact, the total public debt has dropped another $22 billion since the Gateway Pundit article published, according to data from the U.S. Department of Treasury.

But, experts say, people shouldn't read much into the numbers. Nor should Trump be popping champagne.

A leftist "fact check" website claims Trumps quote of the national debt decreasing by $12 billion is "Mostly False," yet, it says "the numbers check out" and the decline is now even more. Did this partisan website just say "Mostly False" not because of anything untruthful, but because they just don't like Trump?

The FBI tweeted this in attempt to arrest attendees of a one-day protest where protesters didn't kill anyone, but failed to tweet photos of the Antifa terrorists after daily violence in most major cities, including Portland which had more than 200 days of riots and violence. Antifa is responsible for dozens of murders, most of which the criminals were immediately released.
